Public Health Program

In the School of Medicine's Public Health program, experience an education grounded in the Jesuit values that make up our mission, including caring for the whole person and working for the best interests of poor and marginalized populations.

Promote positive change and transform the health and well-being of your community through Creighton University's online Master of Public Health (MPH).

Program Goal

The Master of Public Health program is ideal for students seeking a rewarding career promoting healthy individuals, families and communities by solving public health issues.

Council on Education for Public Health

The Master of Public Health program is accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health.

ASPPH Member School

The Master of Public Health program is a member of the Association of Schools and Programs of Public Health.
