Courses
ARH 111. Arts and Cultural Identity. 3 credits.
JVLA students only.

ARH 170. Cities and People: Urban History and Social Justice. 3 credits.
This course presents a survey of select cities throughout time and across the globe. Contentious elements of the development of important cities will be analyzed through the lens of social justice and human dignity. Students will see the positive and negative impact of urbanism on human life and consider the causes and remedies of human suffering in terms of urban planning. CO: COM 101.

ARH 171. Who Owns the Past? Cultural Heritage and Modern Politics. 3 credits.
This course explores the ways the past is studied, interpreted, presented, and conserved, an increasingly hot topic in today’s politicized global environment. Modern political ideologies such as colonialism and nationalism, wars, poverty, and a thriving illicit antiquities market are closely intertwined with how past cultural heritage is collected, interpreted, and maintained. CO: COM 101.

This course presents a survey of major works of sculpture, architecture, and painting made in the Near East, Europe, and North America from the prehistoric beginnings through the Middle Ages. Students will be asked to identify particular works, to describe their basic elements, to distinguish those elements that characterize different styles, and to begin to explain the formal and historical reasons for these differences.

ARH 211. The History of Art: The Medieval World. 3 credits.
This course presents a survey of major works of sculpture, architecture, and painting made in the Near East, Europe, and North America from the Renaissance to the present day. MUS 300. Music History I: Antiquity through Baroque. 3 credits. (Magis Core: Global Perspectives in History)
This course is an exploration and introduction to western music beginning in Antiquity and moving through the Baroque era. We will investigate the beginnings of music. Students will learn how the church and monarchy dominated formal education in music as we progress through this period. Eventually this elitism would lead to the rise of the middle class and the mass printing of music. The social and political trends of the time would not only dictate who played music and where it was played, but what type of music was composed. Students will learn about the significant composers that are associated with both the Medieval Period and Baroque Era so they can witness the impact these writers made on future generations of composition. Satisfies Magis Core: Global Perspectives in History, Magis Designations: Ethics, Written Communication. P: Critical Issues in Human Inquiry, Ethics, Contemporary Composition.
