

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

Creighton University seeks to provide its students an integrating vision of the world. Through the curriculum, engagements with international communities in Omaha and Phoenix as well as abroad, and on-campus interactions with students, scholars, and staff from around the world, Creighton students have the opportunity to gain a global perspective and intercultural communication skills necessary for leadership and service in local and global communities.